[Policy Statements **]

Photography Services

ProPoint Media Photography will replace any photo containing flaws, defects or imperfections resulting from human error and bears no liability for photo re-takes and reproduction of photos if finished photos show no visible flaws, defects or imperfections. In short, not being satisfied with how your child or children are posed is not a basis for photo re-takes and reprocessing. Furthermore, photo re-takes and the resulting reprocessing will incur an additional 50% processing fee in addition to your original order; you have the option at any time to retain the original photos; ProPoint Media Photography wants parents to feel involved with the process of how their child is photographed. It is recommended a parent or guardian be present at the photo session to either personally pose their child or children or allow the photographer and/or an assistant representing the organization being photographed do so.

In the event of a sports photo session, the responsible person\(s\) accompanying the child or athlete is responsible for any personal equipment or props he or she would like to have included in photo, i.e. their own baseball glove, bat, batting gloves, etc. You may request to preview photos at the time they are taken so you can grant approval.

Failure to make full restitution within the 10 day limit will result in actions from a collection agency and/or the magisterial court system. The only acceptable forms of payment is cash or money order. The use of a check for initial payment is your acknowledgement of this policy and its terms.

Refunds, Pricing & Lab use for Photography Services

I have decided to not offer refunds based solely from the fact that digital images can very easily be repaired or reproduced. The images I produce are of superb quality and confident you won't ask for a refund based solely on quality. This policy precaution is in place due to a select few that have taken advantage of such resources. Furthermore, ProPoint Media Photography uses Mpix.com for professional lab services, but reserves the right to utilize any photo lab necessary that will deliver professional results to its clients; all prices subject to change without notice.
